WELCOME TO E-PĀNUI

10 August 2020

Kāore te aroha ki tōku kōkara, motumotu rikiriki ana e roto i ahau. E, me aha atu hoki te hinganga Kahurangi. Auē! Auē! Auē, taukiri e!

This month we join the iwi to mourn the passing of Huhana Pokiri Morgan (nee Bradshaw), known to most of us as Hana or Auntie Hana. The driving force behind the building of our southernmost marae, Te Rau Aroha, the development of Te Rourou

Huhana Morgan

Whakatipuranga o Awarua early childhood centre, the Awarua Mahinga Kai Committee, Awarua Whānau Services and Awarua Research and Development, Auntie Hana was a formidable woman of character and charisma. During her tangi her legacy was evident everywhere.

E te hākui, hanatu atu rā, hoki atu ki ō mātua tūpuna.

In this pānui we have a couple of dates to get into your diaries for an upcoming wānanga whakapapa, a plant out, the Conservation Awards and Selwyn Health Hub design consultation. There's also the closing date for applications for the three Whānau Ora Navigator positions and other employment opportunities.

You will also see that Uncle Terry Ryan has announced his retirement – an announcement received with both sadness and happiness. Happiness that Uncle Terry can now step back and take some time for himself. Sadness because we will miss him immensely!

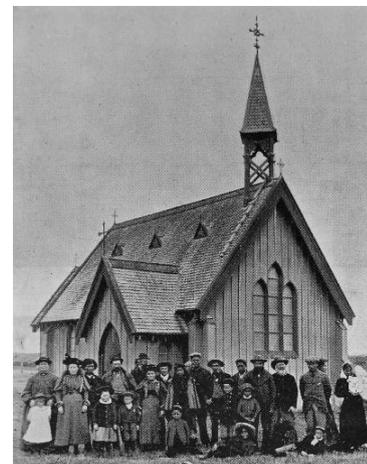

Hope you are well out there. Mauri ora ki a tātou!

WĀNANGA WHAKAPAPA

Te Whare o Te Ruahikihiki
Sunday 23 August 2020, 10am

Ever wondered which of your kaumātua whakapapa to Te Ruahikihiki? Come join us as we continue on our whakapapa journey, learning more about our 1848 kaumātua and their connections to each other and us.

Image: Ngāi Te Ruahikihiki, Ngāti Moki outside Hone Wetere Church, Orariki, 1899

The focus of this session will be to discuss the proposed additions to our kaumātua list and how they connect to our current 1848 kaumātua. Our whanaunga Arapata Reuben will lead us through this kōrero.

If you are the holder of your whānau whakapapa and kōrero, we encourage you to join us to help us work through the whakapapa connections.

We will be at the marae on Sunday 23 August 2020, from 10am. Please bring some kai to share for lunch, your kōrero, your mātauranga whakapapa and your book or device to take your own notes.

This wānanga is part of the Te Whare Wānanga o Te Ruahikihiki, a series of wānanga supported by pūtea from Ngāi Tahu Fund.

Nau mai e te whānau.

CELEBRATING WHĀNAU

10 August 2020

Dr Terry Ryan

RETIREMENT, THE START OF A NEW JOURNEY

Dr. Terence John Ryan, MBE

He Waipū tangata, Ko Manaia te maunga whakaruruhau, ko Whakahoehoe te awa.

E te kaiwhītiki o kāwai tūāuriuri, o takiaho whāioio, e te kairaraka o te takapau wharanui o Tahu Pōtiki, ko koe tēnā Papa Terry, te taituarā mō Kai Tahu i roto i kā tau huhua. Aroraki ana te titiro, ki te raki tāmōre, ki te taumata kapua pīpī, koia rā tērā te taumata mahi, te pae hua ko oti i a koe te waihaka, mō tātou, ā, mō kā uri ā muri ake nei. He momo koe e kore e kitea anō. Mai i Kōtirana, whiti atu ki Te Tai Tokerau, ā tatū ki Waikato, paratī noa ki ruka o Te Waipounamu, nāia ō tini honoka, ā-whakapapa, ā-mahi, ā-hua. Te Kawau Kaitiaki Whakapapa, kōkiri!

We acknowledge our kaumātua, colleague and longest-serving staff member Dr. Terry Ryan as he embarks on a new chapter in his life.

Uncle Terry, as he is affectionately known by his colleagues, was born in the small settlement of Waipū and spent his early life in the far north. He has family affiliations to Waipū, Celtic and Māori links to Te Tai Tokerau, Waikato and Te Waipounamu.

Terry credits his love of whakapapa to his great-aunt Annie McLeod, remembering that when he was about seven years old, she would sit him down with black and white photos and dictate the names to be written on the back.

Schooling at Wesley College in Pukekohe brought him into the Waikato where he was much influenced by the Methodist Mission, especially Sister Heeni Wharemaru and the late Father Seamer.

Terry came to Te Waipounamu in the 1960s to work as a Senior Court Clerk for the Māori Land Court. He was embraced by our kaumātua as his mahi required him to travel around the Ngāi Tahu takiwā and beyond. He also did a stint as a parliamentary secretary for the Honorable Whetū Tirikatene Sullivan and then to Norman Kirk. It was in 1974 he started working for the Ngāitahu Trust Board and then Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu.

How does one pay tribute to someone who has worked for the iwi for more than 45 years and dedicated a lifetime of work for our people?

Uncle Terry knows all our whānau files spanning several generations and often right back to our 1848 kaumātua and has often impressed new acquaintances with his ability to name their whakapapa file number simply by asking one or two questions about their whānau. He has treasured and looked after our whakapapa files as the Kawau Kaitiaki-guardian of our whakapapa.

Uncle Terry has a kind and humble āhua and if have been privileged enough to travel with him you will often be stopped by people who recognise him for his whakapapa services to Ngāi Tahu. He is a living legend.

Even Terry's impeccable handwriting is well known today on our files and family records. They have been lovingly cared for by Terry and when chatting to him he has many family stories to tell.

He is our most senior staff member and many of the staff have grown up knowing of his work and often calling on him for his whakapapa knowledge. Multiply that now by thousands of Ngāi Tahu whānau who have also sought an audience and whakapapa wānanga with Terry. His contribution to our tribal whakapapa is immeasurable.

On a more formal note Terry became a Justice of the Peace in 1995, and still carries out these duties today. He has also received two very notable awards: his appointment as a Member of the British Empire (MBE) in 1995 for services to the community in Te Waipounamu and an Honorary Doctorate from Lincoln University in 2001 recognising his whakapapa expertise and the contribution he has made not only to Ngāi Tahu but also to Rehua Marae over the past 55 years.

He was also involved with the Waitaha Cultural Council where he served as Secretary and later the Chairman spanning 26 years. Terry loves all aspects of Heritage Culture and of course on the social sporting side of things he had a long association with the Ōtautahi Sports Club. He has certainly managed to fit a lot into his time with us over the past four decades.

Meanwhile, we wish Uncle Terry all the best in his future adventures. A formal farewell will be held for Terry later in the year – details will be circulated in the near future.

Uncle Terry, from all of us here in Te Taumatua, Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu, it is not haere rā, but haere ora, haere pai! Go in good health and with our wishes of goodwill.

Rehua ki te raki, hai tohu i tō tāraketaka, mau tou. Rehua ki te whenua, hai tohu i tō kākau marae, mau roa. Haere koe, e te pāpā, e Terry, i ruka i te karaka o pēperekōutaka, o mātāpupututaka. Kia whakataukītia ake, ko koe ko te Whatumanawa o Te Whakapapa, he tohu rakatira o te iwi.

ANNUAL REPORT Submissions by 17 August 2020

It's that time of the year where we are starting to prepare our annual report! Last year we produced a large 60 report which is still available to download on the members area of the website.

This year, we would love to showcase talent from our whānau on the front cover. We are looking for whānau toi that encompasses one of the following:

1. What it means to be a Ngāi Te Ruahikihiki ki Taumutu descendant
2. Te Waihora
3. Te Pā o Moki and Orariki
4. The narrative of Tūterakiwhānoa

It could be a photograph, a painting, print, drawing or digital creation. Whatever toi medium you use, we would love to see it! Your toi and description will be on the front cover of our annual report for 2019-2020.

To join the competition

1. Take a good photograph of your toi
2. Write a small description (200 words or less) to describe your piece and how it relates to one of the above kaupapa
3. Email your submission to dardanelle.mclean-smith@ngaitahu.iwi.nz by Friday 17th August 2020.

NGĀI TAHU FUND

7 August 2020

As noted in the last e-pānui, there are some significant changes afoot within Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu. The financial impacts of Covid-19 continue to roll out across the organization.

Attached is a pānui detailing the changes to Ngāi Tahu Fund. In summary, the following funding is still available - Ngāi Tahu Fund (small/medium projects only), Taiawatea Fund, Marae Development and Taurahere Fund. Funding currently on hold are Mahinga Kai Enhancement Fund, Kā Ararau ki Aoraki, Manawa Hou and Aoraki Bound.

CONSERVATION AWARDS

18 August 2020, 2 – 4pm

The annual Conservation Awards will be hosted by the Hon. Eugenie Sage, Minister of Conservation in conjunction with Te Hapū o Ngāti Wheke. In attendance will be the Waitaha papatipu rūnanga and award winners.

Te Hapū o Ngāti Wheke wish to extend an invitation to the whānau of Ngāi Te Ruahikihiki ki Taumutu.

If you would like to attend, please rsup to Andrew.scott@ngaitahu.iwi.nz

GENERAL PĀNUI

Please find attached several pānui for your information.

Selwyn Health Hub

As part of the ongoing development of Rolleston town centre, attached is a pānui inviting you to attend a design session for the planned Maternity Unit that will occupy space on the second floor of the Selwyn Health Hub facility. The health hub will be located opposite the Selwyn District Council building. The Canterbury District Health Board will be leasing the second floor to hold a 10-bed maternity unit and dental area.

If you interested in learning more about the design of the unit this is a great opportunity. There are 2 sessions offered. Please see the attached pānui for the dates and times.

Pest Free Banks Peninsula 9 August 2020

"In November 2018 we agreed to work together as landowners, community groups, iwi, councils and DOC so that our native plants, birds, animals and insects are flourishing on Banks Peninsula, free from the threats of introduced animal pests. Today, the realisation of this vision has taken a significant leap forward." Mark Christiansen

Making Banks Peninsula pest free is an ambitious community-led goal that has now secured significant new funding to make this dream a reality. Predator Free 2050 Limited will provide $5.11 million to the Pest Free Banks Peninsula project. The funding will create 15 new jobs and enable predator eradication over large parts of Banks Peninsula and Kaitōrete.

The announcement was made today (August 9) by Minister of Conservation Eugenie Sage at an event on pest-free Ōtamahua/Quail Island in Lyttelton Harbour/Whakaraupō.

The funding agreement was signed by the Predator Free 2050 Limited Acting CEO Prof Dan Tompkins and Mark Christensen, Chair of the Banks Peninsula Conservation Trust, on behalf of the 14 organisations that have signed up to the Pest Free Banks Peninsula vision.

The Trust will facilitate the collaborative effort and ensure project milestones are achieved.

Prof Tompkins said that Banks Peninsula was the 10th large landscape project funded by the company.

"We now have projects established on the country's major peninsulas, where geography helps meet the aim of removing predators and protecting from reinvasion. These are important pathfinder investments that enable communities, landowners and iwi to protect and return natural taonga."

The project is the first enabled through $76 million new funding for Predator Free 2050 Limited as part of the government's Jobs for Nature programme.

While the Pest Free Banks Peninsula collaborative vision covers eradication of pests over the entire 110,000 hectares of the peninsula by 2050, the funding will go towards predator eradication over 23,000 hectares of an extended Wildside area in the south east of the peninsula as well as 5,500 hectares on Kaitōrete. These areas are rich in biodiversity, can be readily defended and scaled up as the project extends in the future.

Chair of Environment Canterbury Jenny Hughey commented that it is great to see collaborative efforts across the region being supported by central government.

"Environment Canterbury is committed to this vision, both financially and philosophically, as it will benefit many special native species, such as the jewelled gecko, which are threatened with extinction if we do not remove pests." The programme will focus on eradication of possums and suppression of mustelids, rats and feral cats to low levels.

Possum and goat numbers on Banks Peninsula have been reduced significantly in recent years and there are many well-established trapping programmes.

Pest control efforts by landowners on the south-east 'Wildside' area of Banks Peninsula have already contributed to the recovery of endangered populations of hōiho/yellow-eyed penguins, kororā/little blue penguins and tītī/sooty shearwater. Tūi have also been successfully reintroduced.

Local Ngāi Tahu rūnanga are also strongly engaged in the project and working with the community to restore these sites.

This is a significant step in our collective journey to protect and restore our environment. Congratulations to the 5 papatipu rūnanga for achieving this milestone!

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Please find following 5 job opportunities for the whānau.

Registered Nurse - maternal mental health

This is an exciting new kaupapa Māori initiative because Te Puāwaitanga ki Ōtautahi has been awarded a Māori Health Innovation Fund initiative. The Fund provides the opportunity to create, develop, implement, and evaluate innovative practices in Māori health, and to expand on successful models, programmes, and services.

The maternal mental health nurse role will undertake clinical assessments, provide line management to 2 others, and lead the integration of kaupapa Māori and western models of mental health.

The role is preferably 32 hours per week and fixed term until 30 June 2023. Applications close 17 August 2020.

Kaiwhakapuāwai Whānau health worker

Are you passionate about supporting māmā, pēpi, and their whānau? Does working for a kaupapa Māori community organisation sound like what you would like to be doing? Have you experience as a whānau health worker?

Te Puāwaitanga ki Ōtautahi Trust is a kaupapa Māori provider of a range of health, education and social services that promotes the well-being of whānau Māori.

The Whānau Whakapuāwai service is a new 3-year pilot supported by the Ministry of Health. It will support those with a new pēpi, who are experiencing mild to moderate mental health distress. This is a full-time role until 30 June 2023.

Seafood Process Worker

Permanent Full-time, Christchurch

Kia hiwa rā!

Ngāi Tahu Seafood is looking for a Seafood Process Worker who is keen to learn new skills and to be involved in the process of receiving, grading, swimming, checking and packing out our high value live lobster to export and local market customers. Reliability is a must as the team depend on each other to get the job done to meet the market demands.

As a Seafood Process Worker, you will need to be flexible as we will offer shift work hours that may be early morning, afternoon, and weekend hours, on an as and when required basis. A Heavy Trade and/or Forklift driver license would be an advantage.

Kei aku nui, kei aku rahi, tēnā koutou katoa. Nei rā te reo rāhiri e mihi atu ana ki a koutou te hunga e hāpai ana, e tautīnei ana i te kaupapa o Ngāi Tahu Whānui.

The financial impacts of COVID-19 continue to be felt across Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu. Our focus now is to ensure operations continue to strengthen the resiliency of our whānau and support our tribal aspirations, whilst navigating uncharted territory.

Ngāi Tahu Fund programmes and funding streams have been impacted greatly. We acknowledge this is disappointing news and we want to assure you that these decisions have not been made lightly.

For broader context about our precedence for the year ahead, I encourage you to read the Statement of Corporate Intent 20/21 which is available on: www.ngaitahu.iwi.nz

Accepting applications now

The following funding streams and programmes are available for whānau, Papatipu Rūnanga, Taurahere Groups and other Ngāi Tahu related rōpū:

- Ngāi Tahu Fund – Registered whānau members and Ngāi Tahu associated groups can apply for funding for projects designed to strengthen cultural practices, knowledge, and leadership
- Taiawatea Fund – Rangatahi aged 13-25 can apply for funding to start cultural projects aimed at strengthening their Ngāi Tahutanga and/or to support their participation at cultural events (Taiawatea remains open all year)
- Marae Development Fund (including Pūtea Whakarahi & Pūtea Aumakea) – Papatipu Rūnanga can apply for funds to plan and carry-out capital works projects on our marae
- Taurahere Fund - Taurahere groups (recognised Ngāi Tahu groups located outside the takiwā) can apply for funding to support operational and administrative costs associated with organising group activities.

Ngāi Tahu Fund changes

The Ngāi Tahu Fund will have one funding round per year (opening 1 July and closing 30 September) and project funding is now capped at NZ$30,000.

All out-of-round/retrospective project applications will no longer be funded – any applications received after 30 September will not be considered.

Registered Ngāi Tahu members are eligible to apply for up to NZ$5,000, whilst Ngāi Tahu legal entities, can apply for up to NZ$30,000.

To view the full funding criteria or to apply using our online application, please visit our website: www.ngaitahufund.com

Please note: Registered individuals must know their whakapapa number and four-digit PIN to access the online application. If you are unable to log in, please call our Contact Centre on 0800 524 8248 or email: info@ngaitahu.iwi.nz

Paused streams and programmes

The following Ngāi Tahu Funds streams and programmes have been placed on hold. Their financial viability will be reassessed annually.

- Mahinga Kai Enhancement Fund (for legal entities)
- Kā Ararau ki Aoraki
- Manawa Hou; and
- Aoraki Bound (hibernated).

Please note funding applications for small to medium mahinga kai projects can still be made via the Ngāi Tahu Fund.

Please share these updates with all of your whānau regarding these changes to the Ngāi Tahu Funds.

If you have any queries or concerns, please contact the Ngāi Tahu Funds team by email: funds@ngaitahu.iwi.nz
